Instrument Interfacing (One-time charges)
Instrument interfacing of lab instruments is possible. Lab instrument results data will get directly transferred to PathoGoldCloud instantly. There is no manual entering of values. You can edit these transferred values.

Benefits of Instrument Interfacing
Instrument interfacing saves your lot of time. Also, it saves you from making any typing mistakes completely. Instrument interfacing is must for standard practice as well as NABL Accreditation process. Your lab becomes more standardised & well organised.

- ✓ Instrument Interfacing charges are taken one time only.

- ✓ Instrument Interfacing is done in Unidirectional and Bidirectional way.

Unidirectional Interfacing (UD)
In this case, instrument processes data and sends to software. Later in software we need to manually select data for inserting values.

Bidirectional Interfacing (BD)
In this case, Software sends signal to instrument to process data & instrument sends back processed data to software. There is no manual process involved anywhere. In BD interfacing, Instrument reads barcoded vials to process samples.

Instrument Interfacing Cost

INR 15,000 for Unidirectional Interface per instrument
INR 30,000 for Bidirectional Interface per instrument
